Ocoee-Hiwassee Ranger Station | 423-338-3300

The 20.7-mile John Muir National Recreation Trail is a scenic trail that winds through the Hiwassee River Gorge and Cherokee National Forest. It is said to follow the path taken by naturalist John Muir in 1867, which he outlined in his book A Thousand-Mile Walk to the Gulf. The trail begins at Childers Creek in Reliance and follows alongside the Hiwassee River for 4.2 miles to Towee Creek before heading to Coker Creek Scenic Area.
